WRECK ON COAST LINE. BIG ENGINE TURNS OVER. NARROW ESCAPES
Troy Messenger says:

The Atlantic Coast Line had a bad spill on Wednesday night, near Bethel, a short distance east of Banks, when the huge engine, No. 828, pulled freight train No. 212 left the track, carrying with it four freight cars.

Engineer E. M. Sharpe was in charge of the engine at the time of the wreck.

The engineer felt his engine "rough" when he discovered that it was caused by some of the big drive wheels going off the rail, while the train was going at a fast rate.

The engine proceeded this way for some little distance before it began to turn over and down. When the engine began to turn the engineer jumped out and ran to the front of the engine, where he found the engine had turned over on its side.

A car of mules was next the engine and turned directly across the track. Two of the mules being killed and some of the others injured. A car of merchandise and a car of oats were derailed.

JACK BERRY IS SENT TO HOSPITAL
Huntsville, Ala., Jan. 20.—E. J. (Jack) Berry, real estate dealer and farmer of this city who retired from the contest for the democratic nomination for governor Tuesday, after making an active race for about a week, has been sent to a sanitarium for mental treatment, some of his intimate friends claiming that his mind has recently become unbalanced.

They claim worry over the campaign and representing these facts to the proper authorities, papers were issued committing him to the "Bryce asylum" at Tusculum and an officer assigned by Sheriff John Lowry to escort him there. Mr. Berry departed Wednesday night, it was learned to day.

POLICEMAN AND NEGRO IN DUEL. NEGRO IS SHOT IN LEG.
Troy Messenger says:

Jim Bimbo, colored, about 35 or 40 years of age, was shot through his leg and the bone broken on Wednesday night, in a duel with Policemen Fitts and Wilson.

Bimbo, it is said, was giving some trouble down at the south end of Park street, and the police went to apprehend him.

It is said that as the policeman approached the negro, who was in a fight, the negro began firing on the policeman, and they returned the fire. Neither of the policemen were injured.

The wounded negro was arrested, and is being given medical attention.

Every citizen in the state is sure to get its share of good roads if the bond issue is ratified.

Body of Girl in Casket Presents Puzzle in Mobile

Mobile, Ala., Jan. 18.—The county authorities here have a mystery on their hands to unravel, by finding to day the body of a five-year-old girl child enclosed in an iron casket in the woods five miles south of this city.

Coroner S. F. Hale, investigating the case, says that the body was evidently found by persons digging in the woods for treasure and probably abandoned. There are no graveyards in the vicinity where the body was found and investigation is under way.

ARMED BAND SHOTS UP GEORGIA HOTEL
Blackhawk, Ga., Jan. 20.—An armed band of men fired a fusillade of shots in the business section of town before day break here today pouring some 15 bullets into the Marion Hotel, owned and operated by Mrs. J. V. Roberson, widow of the former sheriff, and mother of Sheriff Olin Roberson, of this county.

The postoffice windows were broken by a bullet as were the windows of the Blackhawk Drug Company, S. E. Tricland Brothers Company, S. E. John, and Dr. G. Henry. No one was injured and the men who did the firing appear to have made good their escape.

Former Sheriff Roberson was killed in the raiding in an illicit still near here and the attack on the town came within few hours after the raid, which succeeded to the office, had seized a large copper still on the farm of Owen Murray, a farmer residing about five miles from here. The latter's son and another man named Aldridge were placed in the Pierce county jail here.

Federal agents took part in the raid.

First-It gives permanent highways without taxation. Automobiles pay all taxes, create a fund to retire the bonds when due and yet leave enough for schools.

Second-It means a boom in 1922. With the bond issue ratified, not less than six million dollars will be spent during the year. Every class of business will be benefited. Plans are ready to start construction when the first issue of bonds has been sold.

Third-It returns some of the money paid the federal government in taxes. The government offers to return a portion of the millions of dollars paid in recent years, by building permanent highways, if we comply with its terms.

Fourth-It means we shall have roads which can be traveled in winter and to schools every day in the year. The government repairs permanent roads and these maintained.

Fifth-It means employment of men, animals and machinery. The money will be distributed throughout the state, so each county will be benefited.

Sixth-It actually reduces taxes because we shall be relieved of thousands of dollars of expense annually. When a farmer breaks a spring on his automobile or a wheel of his truck he has paid a tax. If he takes one half of cost to make it when he might take four or five a good road he pays much less.

Seventh-It means that our state purposes to take advantage of the good roads offered at government expense. The opportunity is not for us to wait until it is too late to vote this bond issue the money which the state cannot match will go to other states. Think of the people of a northern state riding over roads which belong to the people of Alabama.

Eighth-It provides an equitable system guaranteeing each county not less than $100,000 of state funds and $250,000 of federal government funds. The amendment their requires that not less than $250,000 of state funds go to each county and if we vote to match the federal funds this gives each county at least $500,000.

Ninth-It relieves every county of a heavy burden because roads built by state and federal governments will be kept up by automobile license funds. The federal act matching the appropriation for road work requires every state to maintain the roads to built. The government will make inspections to see that the law is kept. If necessary the government will rebuild the roads and charge the cost to the state and not to the counties. This will relieve the counties of a heavy burden on their treasury.

Tenth-It means the federal government, co-operating with the state in constructing roads, will see that the money is safeguarded. No one person's name is taken but the government representative is sent to see that the law is complied with. The government maintains engineers in Alabama who inspect the plans when roads are proposed and approve the plans are sent to Washington where they must be approved. Contracts for new work are let and from that moment all work is under the supervision of both the state and federal governments.

With these facts before the people, President Cranston expressed the opinion that the vote against the bond issue January 29, will be very small.

Alabama Should Vote To Collect

F. J. CRANTON, PRESIDENT OF THE ALABAMA HIGHWAY COMMISSION BETS FORTH CONCLUSIVE REASONS WHY BOND ISSUE SHOULD BE RATIFIED.

Failure to ratify the bond issue means passing on to another state the golden opportunity which is rightfully Alabama's.

In an appeal to the people of Alabama for an overwhelming majority favoring the highway bond issue in the special election January 29, F. J. Cranton, President of the Alabama Highway Improvement Association, amplifies his reasons for ratification, which have been read throughout the state. The bond issue in Alabama will secure highways in every county, built by state and federal governments. Counties will be relieved of a heavy burden.

The fact is emphasized that the federal government will give an annual amount to the state. If the people of the state will provide a road to match this appropriation, it will not match the federal appropriation, any unexpended amount will be given to the other states which do match it.

First-It gives permanent highways without taxation. Automobiles pay all taxes, create a fund to retire the bonds when due and yet leave enough for schools.

Second-It means a boom in 1922. With the bond issue ratified, not less than six million dollars will be spent during the year. Every class of business will be benefited. Plans are ready to start construction when the first issue of bonds has been sold.

The farmers will no longer be denied the economic advantage which Ford's offer promises them, according to Silver, who characterized the opposition to Ford's offer as simply an effort to "keep the fertilizer interest retarded."

The idleness of the government in developing the Muscle Shoals project is also resulting in the extensive daily depreciation of the partially completed nitrate plants, Silver declared.

Vote for the Bond Issue. It is the only hope of getting the federal share of the good roads money appropriated by Congress.
